July 8 '02

Dear Dr Gallaudet: -
 Your letter written from Braunford rec'd yesterday. I was sorry to learn that you could not see Mr Lanham personally, because an interview with him would have more effect than a letter. However, I am confident a letter from you, setting forth the situation and urging the interests of the school, would be of great service. The policy, "to the victor belong the spoils," ought not to cut even for this time, judging politicians, as Mr Lanham seems of individuals less to the manipulations people generally, than to the wish of the than those based upon other services ought, therefore, to have some weight with the appointing power, tho'
 Mr McNulty had no political "pull" whatever,
 which I am disposed to believe he has.
 In order that you may write with some knowledge of the situation here, aside from the arguments of a general nature that you will doubtless use, I shall tell you somewhat of the state of affairs at the school since Mr McNulty became the head. We found things generally demoralized. In capacity to direct, neglect, dissipation, dishonesty and immorality had left their blight upon the school and sunk it to a lower level than it had ever reached. Idleness, gaming, drunkenness, debauchery were shamelessly indulged in by officials. The buildings were going to wreck and ruin, the pupils were going to the devil. That was the state of affairs when Mrs. Mc Nulty came on the scene. To remove the effects of such a carnival of levity took nerve, enthusiastic, persistent effort, and time. Much has been accomplished during the past three years toward bettering conditions, and though there are some things yet to do we are on the high road to most excellent and satisfactory conditions. It takes time of course to obliterate entirely the evil effects of such a reign of mischief. Only last year a number of large girls and boys were expelled, whose moral decline is almost certainly traceable to the looseness existing during the Rose administration. Wonders have however, been performed during the past few years. The buildings have been so improved that they can hardly be recognized as the same. They are now cleanliness are observed, order and place rendered much more habitable. A better class of employes has been secured; better and more efficient service is exacted from them, and discipline is once more administered among the pupils. Instead of jangling, discordant elements, there is now harmony and singleness of purpose among officers and teachers. Along with your general arguments, you might tell Mr. Latham something of the present conditions of the school, as above set forth. I wrote you my ^{former} letter and am writing you now without solicitation from Mr McVulky, and it would be well for you to make it evident to Mr Lanham that you write without solicitation from Mr McVulky. In your letter to me, you speak of addressing Mr Lanham for me also,

I thank you heartily for the intended favor,
but I had not thought of it. I had not meant, in addressing you, that you should intercede for me. Perhaps it might complicate matters to do so, tho'
you may exercise your own judgment in this particular. My position is not directly dependent upon the governor, tho' complications might arise when his wish would be exercised and regarded in the matter, as was the case when Gov. Sayers came in. It might be well for you to write at once. A letter addressed to the Hon. S. T. Lanham, Weatherford, Texas, will reach him.
Anything you can do will be greatly appreciated.

Respectfully
J. W. Blattner

My dear sir.-

Clarence Anderson is hardly far enough along in his studies to enter the preparatory class, and if admitted I do not think would reflect any credit on our Institution or the college. He quit school about a year and a half ago, and went to work, but was discharged for cause and has not been able to find a job since. He is bright enough and fairly studious, but when it comes to character I have not much to say.

Dear Mr. Fowler:

Thoughts naturally turn towards home; and as I have heard nothing from Kendall Green since coming up here last June 25, I wish to write to you and know how you are getting along, and what kind of weather you are experiencing.

Little Beatrice was really sick when we got here from home, but was better soon after arriving in this pure, bracing air. Baby is happy with Kittens, dogs, cows and horses. This place is a paradise for Beatrice, we keep her outdoors from morn till dusk (weather permitting)

Within 200 yards of this place I was born and reared until eight years old, and in the rear of that old home is the Boston & Maine R.R., over which Dr. Gallaudet or Principal Denison with his family always travels to Vermont from the South. Needless to say, I feel quite curious to revisit the scenes of my childhood, viz: going after berries, walking in the woods after wild flowers and wintergreen or trapping woodchucks with my brother. Above all I went to several identical spots where Cousin Artist sketched from Nature in oil, and seeing him at work first inspired me to learn to draw. Before we return home next Fall, I shall bring many sketches from Nature around here.

The weather at most has been very delightful, and we propose to remain here until the tenth of Next September.

Mr. Benedict and Mrs. Bryant beg to be kindly remembered to yourself & Mrs. Fowler and to all who may inquire for them.

Hoping to hear from you soon, and that you are well, I am

Our summer vacation will soon be over, and we are getting ready to return to New York and be with Uncle Read Benedict for a week next month.

All of my household are well and Beatrice is in the best of health, and is happy in the country.

We read in your letter of the 28th inst duly received, with deep regret the sad news of the death of your distinguished Cousin Rev. Thomas Gallaudet.

I have just returned from a short outing, and found your letter here. Many thanks for the check. I am sorry to hear Mrs. Fowler is not well, but hope she will improve.

I know you feel anxious about her and wish you could be with her. That letter did take a trip!

Mr. Brown suggested that I write another, but I said that I wanted Mrs. Fowler to see what a trip that one had to take.

I did not know of Mr. Thomas I have done for eight years.

Gallandete's death until I read the news in your letter. It is very sad indeed and he will be greatly missed.

I shall think of Kendall Green a great deal in the next few weeks. It will seem strange not to pack my trunk and get off as

My dear Doctor:

I am invited to deliver a lecture before the Cleric Literary Society at Philadelphia on the 18th inst. One school opens on the same day. Do you see any objection to my absence for one day from my school duties?

I am recovering slowly from the accident which happened to me in Boston on the 2nd inst. Five hours after seeing May off, I was knocked down by a truck wagon which passed over both of my legs below the knees, and I was brought to the hospital. And after staying there four hours, I took the steamer for Portland, and came up to Fryeburg the next morning.

I have been suffering very much I should say, from the severe bruises. Fortunately there were no bones broken at all the transfers from Boston to Fryeburg I had to be helped along.

I was grieved to hear of the death of your brother Thomas, and offer you my sympathy—

Dear Sir:

I am very
sorry, as well as very much chagrined,
to have to inform you that I am compelled by certain circumstances
just recently brought to my notice to withdraw from the scholarship
you were kind enough to give me.

It is at the instance of my parents and physician that I do this, and only because we believe it my duty to the school as well as to myself.

I have suffered from malaria more or less all my life and a year ago I had to give up my position
as teacher in a preparatory school to go out West and clear the germs out of my blood. I returned a few weeks ago feeling perfectly well again, but when I consulted my physician the other day about teaching this year he advised me — urged me

— very strongly against it: said I ought to have some more active or out-door occupation. My father has been very doubtful of its expediency
all along and is now confirmed against it.

I wish very much I could have known all this sooner, for I assure you it is with no pleasure that I give up this scholarship and so trouble
you with finding another incumbent at this late hour. I beg of you, however, to loose upon the thing as leniently as you can, considering the seriousness and the necessity of the case to me.

Thanking you most sincerely for your kindness and regretting again that I have thus to withdraw, I remain

Dear Sir:

We feel that an explanation is due to persons in charge of your college, in regard to the return of, my nephew, Earle L. Appleby, to college. He left here last night for Washington, D. C. against the advice of all his friends. He has not received the money for his expenses, from Texas, and since there is no positive assurance of his receiving it, (although it has been promised to him) we feel that he should have waited.

Neither should the college nor individuals lend him money on the strength of his receiving this money, for a few years ago, it stopped coming without notice, and two years after began coming again. The giver prefers to remain unknown, but the money is sent by D. A. Bliss of Sherman, Texas.

Since Earle is twenty-one years of age, we cannot compel him to follow our advice, but wish to notify the proper authorities of the college, through you, that we will not be responsible for any debts made by him.

Will you kindly present this letter to the proper person or persons and oblige,

I should be sorry to do him

Dr. F. M. Gallaudet,

Edgewood Park, Allegheny Co., Pa.,

Washington, D. C.

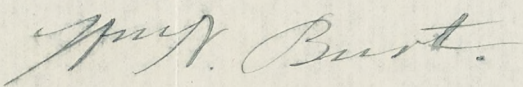

Dear Sir.-

One of my teachers has decided not to return this fall, so I am now on the look-out for an oral teacher. If you know of any who would likely accept a situation here I wish you would kindly send me her name and address.

I think you will find Mr. Price and Miss Bigley very bright students. Miss Bigley was a great favorite of the teachers and pupils of our school.

I am,

Yours very sincerely,

Sept 22nd 1902.

Dear W. G. Fowler :-

Your postal-card of the 19th. inst. is received. I have written and asked Congressman Watson to recommend me as a free student in the college. As soon as I hear from him, I will go to Washington right away. Please furnish me with 1 ticket to Washington from Richmond, Ind., via the Pennsylvania lines.

Yours truly,
Robert E. Binkley.

Washington, D. C.

Dear Sir:—

In card from you to my son, Robert E. Binkley, I am led to believe that a letter to him, has by some means been misdirected by his instructions to you. He was away during his vacation working as the home has been broken up by the death of his mother. Upon his return I find that some of the requirements necessary to his acceptance at C. I. for D.D. have not been formally complied with. For this reason I ask that further instructions be given to me and I will endeavor to supply the deficiency under present conditions, and his earnest desires I am anxious for him to go to your college. Mr. W. G. Fowler,

Dear Sir:-

The proposed change in the tariff taking effect Jan. 1st, at which time the War Tax of 10 cts. a pound will be repealed from teas, is causing considerable of a liquidation in stocks and buying is largely for January account and shipment. The stocks of teas to arrive are being well sold and the supply is getting of inferior quality.

We would be glad to have your estimated orders for shipment in January for enough to last you at least four or five months, as we believe by having your order in hand at the present time, we could select excellent teas which we would keep for your orders.

We would be pleased to have your continued coffee orders.

Mr. W. G. Fowler,

Dear Sir:-

We thank you for your coffee order which is being filled very carefully with a view of pleasing you. The enclosed ^{clipping} letter in reference to New Crop Teas is worthy of consideration because the New Crop is evidently to be sold on or before January 1st or, if any is left, the selections will be of indifferent quality and we will be willing to hold teas for your requirements for several months if we would be favored with your order.

Very truly yours,

choice 45c.

The New York tea market is quiet owing to limited offerings. Formosas are very high, and it is impossible to find dealers willing to make concessions. In fact, holders are inclined to ask a shade more than they did a week ago. They know there will be no surplus stock this year, and that the probabilities are there will be barely enough to go around. If the demand increases in January, as is expected, prices are likely to go still higher and be maintained until late in the spring. Even then they are not likely to decline unless a large crop is assured. The latest advices from Shanghai report a stronger market for country greens and Pingsueys.

Still, he wished Rose had not been so persistent in her assertions that she saw Slackit, and he resented her outburst against him almost as if she had attacked himself.

How about the key? But he would not think of that! A mere coincidence. Others also knew where it was hidden.

When he reached the hotel he told Rose he had some telephoning to do and she went alone to their parlor. Half an hour later when she appeared she again startled him by asking: "Did you find him?"

"Find whom?"

"Why, Slackit, of course. Haven't you been telephoning to hotels to see if he is not in New York?"

And Robert Avery had to admit that she was right. "But how did you

Dear Sir:-

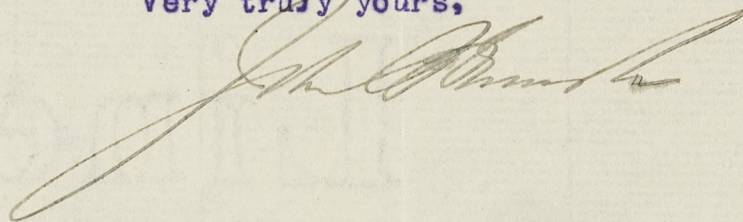

We enclose to you a clipping from a financial newspaper.

We should have stated yesterday in our letter that Oolong Teas are five cents a pound higher in bond this year than last season.

Prices for Oologings for several years have been unusually low in bond, owing to the War Tax which was necessary to add before shipment could be made from bonded warehouse and while there should be a very large reduction in the price of teas after January, it will not be more than five cents from prices ruling to-day and many of us expect to see the market advance two or three cents more, owing to the short supplies, increased demands, etc.

We hope to have your order for future delivery that we may take good care of you.

Texas School for the Deaf

B. F. McNULTY, Superintendent

#4463

Austin, Texas, Oct 30 1902

Dear Dr Gallaudet; -
I wrote you some time ago in reference to your son's coming to Texas, inviting him, in the name of the Supt., to the Institution, but have not heard as to what you have decided in the matter. Do not hesitate to send him. I assure you he is perfectly welcome. Mr McNulty and I both thought it would be best for him to come here first and see whether the climate would agree with him, and then find him a place on a ranch, which it would not be difficult to do.

Respectfully
J. W. Blatter

2 2 CIRCULAR OF INFORMATION 2 2

The Texas School for the Deaf is an institution for the education of the deaf—not an establishment for the treatment of diseases of the ear, or the care of the feeble-minded. . . .

An applicant for admission must be of sound mind, good moral character, free from contagious diseases, between the age of eight and eighteen years, and capable of attending to his own person—dressing and undressing, etc.,—without assistance. . . .

(a). The scholastic period is ten years, reckoned from date of admission, with an additional year for the completion of an industrial education. In case of the pupils who have not completed the prescribed course in the allotted time, but give promise of doing so within a reasonable time thereafter, the scholastic period may be extended by the concurrent action of the Superintendent and Trustees. The right is, however, reserved by the authorities of the school to discharge pupils at any time within the above period when, in the judgment of the Principal, they cease making sufficient progress to justify their retention. . . .

(b). After admission, pupils must not, without the consent of the Superintendent, be withdrawn temporarily, nor detained at home after the beginning of the annual sessions. Such withdrawal or detention beyond two weeks from the annual opening, will work forfeiture of place, and readmission will be granted only when parents give the Superintendent a satisfactory reason for keeping their children out. The advancement of the pupils and the highest efficiency of the school demand promptness and order. . . .

Hearty co-operation from parents and guardians toward the officers in charge is expected. The Superintendent is ever ready to hear complaints and receive advice from parents, but expects such complaints and advice to be made direct. . . .

(c). Pupils are furnished with board, tuition and ordinary school-room supplies free of charge. Clothing must be furnished by parents or guardians in sufficient quantity and of suitable quality, all pupils being required to wear the uniforms adopted by the authorities. The State does not pay fare on railroads, or furnish clothing for pupils, only in case of real indigency. Proof of such inability on the part of parents must be established by a sworn statement of the parent, and a certificate of the County Tax Collector as to the amount of property they render for taxes. . . .

Pupils not able to read and write, when sent to the Institution, should have a card stating who they are, post-office of parent, and that they are on their way to the Institution. . . .

All letters and packages for the pupils should be directed to the care of "School for the Deaf, Austin, Texas." If not so directed they will in all probability fail to reach the parties addressed. . . .

The annual sessions begin the third Wednesday in September, and close the third Wednesday in June. . . .

Dear Sir,

On my return to Calcutta after an absence of about a month I opened my foreign mail that brought me the most painful news of the death of my esteemed friend Rev. Dr. Thomas Gallaudet. Allow me to express to you & to your sister my sympathy with you in your bereavement. Of course Dr. Gallaudet died full of honor & glory, but we can hardly afford to lose such a brother even though he dies in his eightieth year. But then, his duty done, he has gone to his master. I shall never forget his face, glowing with kindness, when I first met him in the street in Dublin. Then & there I expressed my desire of visiting the United States & the Rev. Doctor at once promised to help me in the matter, & through him I got introduced to you. I again express my sympathy with you & the Rev. Doctor's family.

My school is growing in importance. Our new building will be complete in about a year.

J. W. BLATTNER,

Nov 25 '02

Dear Dr. Gallaudet;

Mr Lanham has returned to Washington and left the matter of this school apparently unsettled. Most of the appointments have already been announced but the announcement of greatest interest to this school will be held in reserve until he returns from Washington at the holiday recess. The immediate cause of this holdup is not definitely known. There has been the same hot and undignified scramble for the positions in the gift of the governor, including the institutions that we have had every four years, and while Mr Lanham has indicated the present heads of most of the State institutions for reappointment he has for some reason held up Mr McNulty's. It looks very much like a supposed coterie of enemies have made a secret and unjustifiable fight on him in regard to whether this is true or what it is Mr Lanham declines to open his mouth, nor will he intimate to Mr Mc Nulty's friends, who are also his close and influential friends, what he intends to do. Mr Mc Nulty is the most extensively and powerfully endorsed man applying to Mr Lanham for any position in this gift. This in addition to the fact that he has done more for the institution than any of his predecessors made it look certain to his friends that he would be reappointed without question. Now, Mr Gallaudet, I shall once more presume upon your good will and your interest in the welfare of the school. Will you kindly have a talk with Mr Lanham, urge the reappointment of Mr Mc Nulty, and give him as thorough an insight into interests of a school of this kind and the importance of experience on the part of its officials as you can. Do it without delay. You are at liberty to confer with congressmen Slayden and Ball, who are personal friends of Mr Mc Nulty, as to what course to pursue.

Dear Sir:-

Your favor of the 25th received. We assure you that your orders always have been considered favors and they have had our careful and personal attention. We wish to state, that there seems to be a universal idea in any and every trade, that an institution is a good place to put any odd lot of merchandise that may be on hand but, we have never regarded your orders in any such way, for the reason that we have felt that you were entitled to the very best of values and lowest wholesale prices, and we can truthfully say that in no instance have you had anything but the best quality of coffee or tea and, as long as you will continue to favor us with your orders, we shall treat you in the same manner, and see to it that you and your several charges have uniform quality.

We know that it is an easy matter to give over value on the first shipment and afterwards have the quality deteriorate, as this kind of competition we are continually running against but, we have the pleasure to know that almost invariably whenever our customers have tried some other coffee roasting establishment, they come back to us and stick.

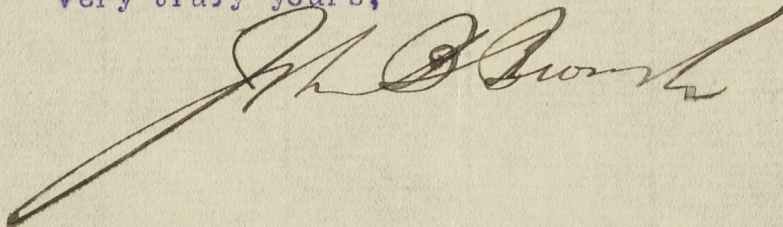

Mr. W. G. Fowler, #2.

We have always given you fine washed coffees and never overcharged you, and to-day we make the price less than what we have previously charged ~~not~~ because the market is lower on the kind of goods which we give you, but simply because we do not want to lose your account, but we truthfully say that we should not sell the coffee which you are receiving from us, less than sixteen cents. We can give you the same figure that other parties are willing to and will ship, if you so state, a Santos and Maracaibo Blend at considerably less than what we are billing you the Java, Mocha, Mexican and Maracaibo Blend which you are getting on this order, the same as you have previously had.

The kind of coffees which you get from us will cost Green twelve and three quarter cents, which is a roasted cost, allowing for shrinkage, of fifteen and one half cents, at which price your last order is being shipped.

We hope you will not discontinue favoring us with your orders as we shall be more than disappointed if you do so.

Very truly yours,
