since it was such a terrible blow to her she can't being very strong since my sister's death which occurred five months ago,

To tell you how grieved we are over my brother's misfortune would be an impossibility, while he was at home he was a model young man he would look down on a person who could lower themselves so much as to become intoxicated and how he has fallen we cannot imagine unless it is he has been with Dad's companions, do not for a moment think I am going to take my poor brother's part, not he ought to have more will of his own than to be led by others, if he could only have been with Mr. P. I think he would have been different - for Mr. P. we know is a fine young man and we admire his principals very much, I trust when he returns you will never have to reprimand him again as I think he can feel the strain which is upon him -

We received a letter some days ago from Dr. Gallaudet saying Martha was getting along nicely and we were almost heart-broken when we heard his misfortune - we have to ask you now to please let us know how soon my brother can return to his studies? if it is possible my

Dear Sir,

The special Circular came duly to hand, for which receive my thanks: and in this connection I would ask you to send me, specimens examination papers in the several studies, necessary to be pursued preparatory to entering the Introductory Class, and also to report what is necessary to secure admission into the Freshman Class, as we have two students who desire to enter the College next fall.

Dear Sir,

I have your note of the 16th inst.

While I regret very much to hear of the circumstances of which you inform me, I feel grateful to you for the sense of justice, at once, and courtesy, which inspired the communication.

The matter will receive my careful attention.
