TOURS OFFERED BY FOLGER SHAKESPEARE LIBRARY

The Folger Shakespeare Library, located at 201 E. Capitol Street, S.E., is offering tours of its Elizabethan Theatre and exhibition hall. Tours are arranged for students from junior high school through college age and adult study groups.

Tours may be scheduled Monday through Friday from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. Interested parties are asked to schedule their tours in advance by writing to Mrs. Jean Baxter at the Folger Shakespeare Library.

In addition, the Folger Theatre Group produces a series of plays each year, and student groups may request a seminar with the actors following the performance. Additional information may be obtained from Judy Blundon at 546-4000 about planning a seminar and securing student discount rates.

The Folger Shakespeare Library, which offers one of the world's best collections of rare books and manuscripts from the Renaissance period, is open on Saturdays from 10 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.

NEWS FROM PRE-COLLEGE PROGRAMS

During this past week, Tom Behrens participated in a Regional Workshop of the Education Commission of the States which met in Arlington, Virginia. The workshop was attended by legislators from several area states, H.E.W. officials from the Bureau of the Education of the Handicapped, leaders in organizations serving the handicapped, and educators. The keynote speaker was Sidney Marland, U.S. Commissioner of Education.

Several members from Kendall School and MSSD attended a professional meeting at the Pennsylvania School for the Deaf in Philadelphia last Friday. Participants from Virginia, Maryland, West Virginia, Pennsylvania and Delaware also attended the workshop which focused on vocational rehabilitation.

DISCOUNT RATES AT THE KENNEDY CENTER

The Kennedy Center is offering a 50% discount rate on tickets purchased by Gallaudet students. Students can receive this discount by picking up a coupon at the Kennedy Center box office and presenting their identification cards. A list of performances which will come under the discount policy will be sent to the Office of Public Information on a weekly basis.

Faculty members who accompany student groups can also participate in the discount policy. For further information about group orders call 343-8893 at the Kennedy Center.

CONFERENCE ON AGING IGNORES DEAFNESS

It has come to our attention that the White House Conference on Aging, which will be held in several weeks, has neglected to include a session on the problems of aging and deafness in its program. The Conference, which meets every 10 years, has consistently overlooked hearing impairments when formulating its agenda.

At this time, though, Dr. Arthur S. Fleming, chairman, has made a partial commitment to add a session on deafness to the program; but it is feared that without continued probing, the idea will be dropped.

Faculty and staff are urged to promptly write to Dr. Fleming at the White House Conference on Aging, Washington, D.C. 20201. It has also been requested that a copy of the letter be sent to Dr. Jerome Schein at the Deafness Research and Training Center, New York University, 80 Washington Square, East, New York, New York 10003. If you would like more details, please contact Lee Katz at 4417.

ISABEL LEE INTERVIEWED BY VOA

Isabel Lee was recently interviewed by the Voice of America in reference to her work with the Pan American Liaison Committee of Women's Organizations. Isabel is a member of a national committee which has been working on a project to bring a student from Latin America to Gallaudet as a graduate student in education of the deaf.

The committee has been sponsoring fund raising projects for about a year now and hopes to have a scholarship available next year for a student from Costa Rico. Hopefully the student will return to his country and found a school for the deaf upon completion of his studies here. The interview will be broadcasted throughout Latin America in several weeks.
