SWANSEA,

July 11, 1899

Dear Dr. Gallaudet,

Although I recently had the pleasure of seeing you and some of your Colleagues at Washington, I desire to express in writing my sense of the generous kindness of yourself, the Board of Directors and the Faculty of the famous College over which you preside, in receiving my son Arnold Hill Payne for the Academic Year now closed, admitting him to full Fellowship, and conferring upon him the Degree of Master of Arts. Nor can

I omit to acknowledge in like manner the friendly and profitable intercourse he has had with the residents, one and all, at Kendall Green.

For these advantages and privileges be pleased to accept my sincere thanks. I can only hope that he was in some measure helpful to the Professors and Students during his stay, but you as a high-minded Educator will find your reward rather in the fact that you have incalculably widened the field of work which now lies before him. He will probably be called to pastoral duties, but it is certain that if spared he will also be engaged in, and will promote and influence, the elementary and higher education of the Deaf in this country. And as long as I am permitted to witness here the services he may be enabled to render to my own class I shall remember with gratification and pride his connection with Gallaudet College.

Believe me to be

Yours, very faithfully,

B. H. Payne.

My dear Sir:

Miss Parkinson
could not start for Washington, at the appointed time, because her pass did not arrive in time to allow her to do so. She will leave here the latter part of this week. Please let me know if this delay, though unavoidable, will interfere

With her taking the exam-starts.

My dear Doctor:-

I'm going to Washington on business next week and if you are not under obligations to any of the College Amateurs who help pay their way by this means I should like to make groups of the Faculty, F.B. Team, Co-Eds, and the whole body, in the same style as Communion groups, but at a lower price. I shall take pleasure in calling whether I take a camera along or not.
