INTERNATIONAL FLAG UNVEILED

On December 8, an international flag for the deaf was unveiled at MSSD in the presence of members of Gallaudet College, the National Association of the Deaf, representatives from the Department of Health, Education and Welfare and MSSD students. Warren Coryell, a graduate of MSSD and now a prep student at the College, began designing the flag last year.

Created as an international symbol, the colors have a special meaning. Red stands for courage, blue for loyalty and both combined represent freedom. The yellow symbolizes the rising sun --- a better future for the deaf. In addition, the red and blue honor France --- the homeland of Abbe de l'Epee, a pioneer in the education of the deaf. The emblem of the flag is that of the World Federation of the Deaf. "Spiritus Surdus" and "Laborate Una Pro Cras Meliore," the inscription of the banner, means "Deaf Power" and "Working Together for a Better Tomorrow."

The flag will be kept at MSSD until March 1972 when members of the NAD will take it to Rome for the board meeting of the World Federation of the Deaf where it is hoped the WFD will accept the flag as its official banner.

TRYING TO BREAK THE HABIT?

If you have been unable to stop smoking, the American Cancer Society may be able to offer you some assistance. Started this past Monday and continuing through February 29, the American Cancer Society of the Metropolitan area will operate a 24-hour telephone information service, "Helpful Hints for Breaking the Cigarette Habit."

By dialing 462-7000, the caller will receive a message containing effective methods used by ex-smokers to break the cigarette habit.

CROCHETING SOCIETY EXPANDS MEMBERSHIP

In response to a direct inquiry from John Schuchman, Mesdames Boggs, Kemble, and Patterson report that the name, "Noon Hour Ladies' Crocheting Society," does not define the limits of membership; it only states its present composition. "Anyone," according to the present members, "'male chauvinist pigs' or otherwise, may join this fellowship, the only requirements being a crochet hook and a length of yarn."

SCOREBOARD

After losing their first three games of the season, our basketball team has had a two game winning streak. They won Thursday's game with Bowie State by a score of 53 to 52 and Saturday's game with Luther Rice, 77 to 47.

Our ice hockey team, though, has not fared so well recently. With a 3-5 record, they have dropped their last two games: Brewers, 7 to 3, and Junior Clippers, 10 to 4. In Sunday's game, the Clippers scored three goals in 47 seconds --- probably an all time record.
