COLOR GALLAUDEY "EQUAL"

President Merrill has announced the appointment of Ms. Ethel Bothuel to the position of Aide to the President for Equal Employment Opportunity.

Ms. Bothuel came to Gallaudet from Federal City College where she was employed by Equal Employment Opportunity and Affirmative Action. In the near future, Ms. Bothuel will meet with administrators and budget unit heads to discuss the College's Affirmative Action Plan and the way it will be implemented.

A SIGN BY ANY OTHER SIGN

Mondays in October should be kept open for you who are seekething signs, particularly international signs.

Beginning October 7th, classes will be held in international sign language conducted by Yerker Anderson. Class time will be 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. in Room 251 Hall Memorial Building.

IN PLACE OF A CURSE

At the next vacancy for God, if I am elected, I shall forgive last the delicately wounded, who, having been slugged no harder than anyone else, never got up again, never to fight back nor to finger their jaws in painful admiration.

They who are wholly broken and they in whom mercy is understanding, I shall embrace at once, and lead to pillows in Heaven. But they who are the meek in trade, baiting the rest of their betters with extortions of meek helplessness, I shall take last to love, and never wholly. Let them all into Heaven, I abolish Hell-- But let it be read over them as they enter, "Beware the calculations of the meek, who gambled nothing, gave nothing, and could never receive enough. D.C. CELEBRATES WITH MSSD

Monday, October 14th, eleven students from MSSD will participate in the 1974 District of Columbia's City Celebration.

The students will perform music, mime, and mirth at 15th and E. Streets, N.W. Their objective is to improve understanding of deaf people and deafness through the use of body language, mime, and sign language.

Songs, skits, and improvisations will be created in sign language with audience participation.

For anyone interested, the students will also teach songs, sayings or rhymes in sign language and it all happens from 1:00 to 4:00 p.m.

COPS AND ROBBERS

On one night only, Wednesday, October 23rd, a communication session will be held to improve understanding of our police forces at work.

At Montgomery County Police Academy, located on 10025 Darnestown Road, Rockville, Maryland, from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m., a question and answer period will be held in which you will be informed of the TTY Emergency system which exists in the Metropolitan area.

A tour of the police training facilities is planned and the film, "Speeding," made by the Michigan Association for the Deaf, will be shown.

The event is being sponsored by the Montgomery County Police Academy and the Montgomery County Vocational Rehabilitation Office in conjunction with the Gallaudet Center for Continuing Education.

There is no fee for this program.

AND I THANK YOU

Mrs. Garrison Winders
Indianapolis, Indiana

Dear Mrs. Winders,

The Faults of Speech and English Visible in Twelve Lessons have arrived safely. On behalf of the College and the Library, I would like to express our appreciation of your support. These books are welcome additions to the library collection.

Thank you so much for this gift.

Sincerely,
Carolyn Jones

WELCOME TO THE QUIET LIFE

A brand spanking new book is out and it looks good. Entitled "Welcome to the Quiet Life," the book is a handbook for Adult Education Teachers and Teacher Trainers.

The authors are Robert A. Luke, Professional Associate in Adult Education with the National Education Association, and Linda Donnels, Adult Basic Education Specialist at Gallaudet College.

The preface is written by Thomas A. Mayes, Dean of the Center for Continuing Education.

Copies of the book or information on working with hearing impaired persons in lifelong learning programs may be obtained by writing the Center for Continuing Education, Gallaudet College, D.C. 20002.

LORETTA LYNN LONGHORN RODEO SHOW

A wild-wild-west rodeo show is coming to D.C. Armory the first week in November. On Thursday afternoon, November 7th, from 1:30 to 3:00, a special performance is being held for inner-city children and children with handicaps.

Tickets for the rodeo are normally $6.00 and up but for this performance, tickets are only $1.50.

The Downtown Jay Cees organization is sponsoring the event and has set aside 50 tickets for Gallaudet College. Donations are being collected to help defray ticket costs so you are more than welcome to contribute more than $1.50.

To obtain tickets, contact David Lines in Alumni/Public Relations, or Kirk Sampson 1341 13th st., Colorado Building #307, N.W. Washington, D.C.

Rodeo performances are scheduled for the old-timers on Friday, Saturday, and Sunday, November 8-10, afternoon and evening.
