"CODE-A-PHONE" INSTALLED AT SMITHSONIAN

An automatic answering machine has been installed by the Special Education Program of the Smithsonian's Office of Elementary and Secondary Education for its telecommunication device for the deaf.

This service can be used after regular hours, on weekdays and weekends. The machine will give a pre-recorded information message about the opening and closing times of the museums, the locations of public cafeterias and special programs in the museums. The service will also allow the caller to leave a message and have her/his call returned.

The program has two phone lines to provide information to handicapped visitors on Institution programs and events- 381-4412 (V) and 381-4411 (TTY). The TTY number will now have 24-hour service.

The Special Education Program was established to make the Smithsonian's programs especially accessible to hearing impaired people. The program is adapting and developing events in the interest of deaf and hard of hearing individuals and can provide sign and oral interpreters for lectures, programs and tours. Because of scheduling requirements, requests for interpreters should be made at least 48 hours in advance.

The program's offices are located in Room 1163, Arts and Industries Building, 900 Jefferson Drive, S.W.

OOPS!

In the April 23 issue of OTG I mentioned that Barbara Kannapell had moved to a new office. This was incorrect. Barbara does have a new number but is still housed in the same office.

MT. GALLAUDEY

We've all grown fond of our new mound on the mall. We've seen it covered with snow and dreamt of scaling it. Have you noticed how it seems to be changing shape and getting smaller... and what's this, is it becoming a parking lot????

ENERGY CONSERVATION TIPS FROM JIM HULL

"Why - are so many people able to find a switch to turn lights on but not able to locate the same switch to turn them off?

"Or - have the strength to open a window or door but strangely lack the strength to close them?

"Or- complain about temperatures when they won't let the thermostat do its job?

"This is just a thought provoker to remind you energy is getting scarcer and extremely costly. Thank you for your cooperation."

"CLOSED CAPTIONING FOR TELEVISION"

You will soon receive a brochure, "Closed Captioning for Television," in the campus mail. If you are interested in being notified when the unit which will adapt your present television or the special TV which will receive closed captions will be available, fill out the post card at the back of the brochure. You may send the post cards through the campus mail to the Office of Alumni and Public Relations in Chapel Hall or simply drop your post card off there. The A/PR Office will make sure that the National Captioning Institute (NCI) receives all cards turned in to us.

The NCI needs to receive 100,000 or more post cards to make this part of the project a success! The Adapter Units and special TVs should be ready in 1980.
